

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election does not serve the public interest. It is biased broadcasting. It is clearly partisan.

I am appalled that media consolidation transforms the "public" airwaves into partisan airwaves. Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest. Sinclair's actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules and demand more in the license renewal process.

At the least, Sinclair should be obligated to also air a documentary that showcases Kerry or attacks Bush. That would serve the public interest and retain a semblance of equitable treatment. Thank you.
